Granite Peak To House U.S. Attack Gear

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN, Colo. (AP) — Deep inside this granite mountain, technicians have started installing secret new electronic gear that will enable U.S. commanders to react within seconds to any attack on North America.

This is the final phase of a four-year, $89-million effort to build an atom-proof command post for the North American Air Defense Command.

The NORAD command post now is above ground, about five miles away in Colorado Springs, and is vulnerable to an atomic knockout.

By early 1966, after the specially designed computers and other fancy new equipment have been checked out, the U.S. and Canadian military staff will take over the underground Combat Operations Center.

There, these keenly trained experts will maintain a 24-hour vigil for signs of impending attack by missile, bomber or satellite.

If attack should come, the NORAD commander in chief and his battle staff would "button up" behind a brace of 15-ton steel blast doors and call the shots for the defense — sending up jet interceptor fighter planes, launching antimissile and antisatellite weapons.

Air Force officers claim this complex of steel buildings — resting on 937 unique antishock springs and wedged into a network of tunnels beneath about 1,000 feet of solid granite — would be safe from all but perhaps a direct hit by the biggest hydrogen warhead imaginable.

The engineers bent special efforts to making certain there is continuous communication between the Combat Operations Center and the outside world — a serious deficiency in the present above ground command post whose communications lines are exposed to possible interruption.

All phone cables are buried in steel conduits several feet below ground. They are embedded in granite and sheathed in concrete, steel and copper.

The normal 300 - man staff manning the center would swell to about 800 in a "button up" emergency.

To prepare for this, the Cheyenne Mountain complex has been designed as a sort of underground town with the capability to sustain its population for about 30 days without outside contact.

Repair-It Yourself Car Is Proposed

LONDON (AP) — A designer today made public details of what he called the world's first repair-it-yourself automobile.

It will be seven feet long, cost about $560, go 65 miles on a gallon of gas and seat five persons, a spokesman said.

"There is still a lot of design work to do," the spokesman said, "but we are already discussing the car with a manufacturer."

The designer is John West, who helped turn out the Pacific and Orient liner Canberra. His spokesman said a prototype has been developed and gave these details:

The engine will be sealed for life. When it wears out, it can be lifted from the car, thrown away and replaced by a new one.

This will take 10 to 15 minutes and can be done by the owner in his own garage.

The car will have a fiberglass body. Its color will be impregnated and it will never need polishing. Dents can be repaired with a do-it-yourself kit.

Empire Building Caring for Birds

NEW YORK (AP) — The management of the 102-story Empire State Building Sunday, renewed its annual agreement with the National Audubon Society to turn off floodlights on the topmost floors when weather conditions pose a threat to migrating birds.

Roland C. Clement, staff biologist of the Audubon Society, said the lighting is a hazard to birds only on nights with low cloud levels, fog and rain. During these weather conditions, he said, confused birds have flown toward the high-level lights and fluttered around them until exhausted.

IMPASSIVE PASSER-BY — With a casual glance at the body of a slain rebel, a youthful passer-by continues his stroll during temporary cease-fire in Santo Domingo, D.R. After Junta leader Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrea refused to extend a 24-hour truce, Ambassador to the U.N. Adlai Stevenson immediately announced that the United States would block resumption of the full-scale civil war by "force if necessary."

Bogalusa Mayor's Call For Integration Studied

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality says it plans a quick test of segregation laws which the mayor has promised to wipe out.

Michael Jones, CORE's program director here, said a small group of Negroes would go into the city park this afternoon. The park was the scene of racial violence last week in this papermill town which the Ku Klux Klan claims it dominates.

Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer Jr. said the park will not be open. "Because of tensions built up by CORE and the incident in the park," Cutrer said, "the parks are closed and will remain closed indefinitely."

The mayor said his pledge to lower racial barriers applied to "normal circumstances." He said circumstances are not normal now.

In an interview after announcing his decision to end segregation laws, Cutrer said, "I have to do what I think is right for the community and not worry about it."

"You can't let those on the fringe lead," said Cutrer, 50, in the interview. "You have to work for the people in the middle."

"All I can see, otherwise, is chaos and violence and killing. I can't buy that."

Two white Bogalusa residents were arrested early Sunday and charged with trying to burn the Negro church where civil rights leader James Farmer spoke Sunday night.

After Farmer's speech, Ed Hollander, a Congress of Racial Equality field secretary, said a carload of whites fired at four Negroes leaving the rally in an auto. Police said they found nothing to substantiate the report.

Segregation laws "are not constitutional and cannot be enforced," the mayor told Bogalusa residents in a radio address Sunday night. "In accordance with federal law, your Commission will open all public facilities to every citizen."

"Everyone," he added, "must recognize the fact that federal laws supersede state and city laws in the field of civil rights."

Cutrer also said police would hire Negroes, and other departments of the city government would consider doing so.

Ohio Weekend Mishaps Bring Death to 12

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohioans had a relatively safe weekend on the state's highways as at least 10 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

All of the fatalities came in separate accidents, and six of the victims were children under 10.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, at least two persons drowned and a third person was missing Sunday and presumed drowned.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American adviser and 35 South Vietnamese troops were killed in a Viet Cong ambush 150 miles south of Saigon Sunday night, a U.S. spokesman announced. Another American adviser and 25 Vietnamese are missing.

Four other Americans were killed and one was wounded in two ambushes Saturday near Ben Cat and near Song Be. Five South Vietnamese infantrymen were killed at Song Be, 19 were missing and 10 were wounded.

The weekend casualties brought the toll of U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam to 382 since December 1961.

South Vietnamese casualties in the Ben Cat ambush were not reported but were believed heavy.

U.S. Navy war planes reported sinking another North Vietnamese PT boat today and damaging six military barracks as round-the-clock air strikes against North Viet Nam continued without letup. Four trucks were damaged in another raid.

A U.S. military spokesman said the boat was left in flames after Navy Skyhawks and Sky-raidiers bombed the vessel in the Rao Nay River, 55 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Inter-American Peace Force Aids Dominica

Brazilian Heads New Command

Junta, Rebels Continue Truce

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim was named to command the Inter-American Peace Force in the Dominican Republic Sunday night as the truce in Santo Domingo continued.

U.S. Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer was named deputy commander of the force in which U.S. Marines and paratroopers will outnumber Latin Americans 10 to 1. Palmer commands the American forces who landed here after the Dominican revolt on April 24.

First units of a 1,250-man Brazilian force were due in Santo Domingo today, to join small units from Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

The United States said it would withdraw about 1,700 troops as soon as the Brazilians arrived and that further American men would be withdrawn in proportion to the number of Latin-American troops sent. These are eventually expected to total 2,000.

The Inter-American Peace Force—the first such group in the history of the Western Hemisphere — was created Sunday

Top Small Business Man Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson honored an Alaskan manufacturer today as Small-Business Man of the Year.

"Behind every small business that succeeds there is always some dedicated, untiring individual," Johnson said in presenting the award—a bronze plaque — to Dominic Donatello, 46, of Anchorage. He is the son of an Italian immigrant.

Donatello was selected for the award by the Small Business Administration and the National Council for Small Business Management Development.

They said he exemplifies "the imagination, initiative, independence and integrity characteristic of America's millions of small-business men."

Three SBA loans totaling $385,000 have helped Donatello develop his cleaning products manufacturing concern. It started more than 17 years ago on a part-time basis with the work done in his basement.

Donatello now has a 50,000-square-foot plant and employs seven people. They turn out soap, tallow, dog and cattle food, bleach, floor waxes, industrial cleaners, liquid starch and glycerine.

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want a glass of water in a New York City restaurant, you'll have to ask for it.

If you get it without asking, the proprietor will be risking a summons to court and a fine up to $50.

The water conservation measure, effective Tuesday, was ordered because the drought is continuing to lower levels in the city's reservoirs.

The ban on serving water in restaurants will save 12 to 15 million gallons a day, estimates Armand D'Angelo, commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity.

As of last Friday, D'Angelo said, the city's reservoirs were at 56 per cent of capacity — holding 267 billion gallons — one-third below the level at the same time last spring.

Win or Be Eaten

Champion Frog Had No Choice

ANGEL'S CAMP, Calif. (AP) — Spiced with international intrigue, the centennial of the Calaveras County Jumping Frog Contest ended Sunday night with more than 50,000 frog watchers watching.

For the over-all winner, a big bullfrog named "Hops" from Lafayette, Calif., it was literally a case of do or die.

"We don't eat them if they win," said Hop's co-owner Leonard Hall, a frog-raising lover of frog legs who is $300 richer because of the champion's 14-foot-9-inch leap.

Mark Twain, who immortalized the jumping frog competition in the sleepy little Sierra foothills town 100 years ago, would have gotten a giggle out of the international complications Sunday.

Only one of the three entries in the foreign frog contest got off the ground.

"The Swedish entries turned out to be toads," said a contest spokesman, "and the Filipino frogs didn't show up."

That left the foreign contest with only a black-and-white amphibian named "Impala" from South Africa, owned by Piem Fourie and T. Botha, who come from Germiston. Naturally, he won, with a leap of 11 feet 5 inches.

Angel's Camp, which normally has about 1,800 inhabitants, was an amiable madhouse over the weekend. Residents welcomed visitors by hanging out their wash.

The normal peace and quiet of the fairgrounds was shattered by 10 high school bands, Scottish bagpipers, beauty contests, vaudeville shows, fireworks and

Commie Mail Curb 'Illegal'

Supreme Court Outlaws Practice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today a 1962 law authorizing the Post Office Department to hold up Communist mail from abroad.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 8-0 decision. Justice Byron R. White took no part.

The government contended the law served two basic purposes: It protected American citizens, especially those of recent foreign origin, from harassment; it denied foreign powers the service of having the United States deliver their propaganda to people who did not want it.

The law was attacked as contradictory to a free and open society and as an unwarranted invasion of privacy.

The law provided that mailed matter—except sealed letters—that originated in a foreign country and was determined by the secretary of the treasury to be Communist political propaganda was to be held up by the postmaster general.

With certain exceptions this mail could be delivered only upon the addressee's request. If there was no request the mail was destroyed.

Douglas said the court had to conclude "that the act as construed and applied is unconstitutional because it requires an official act (viz. returning a reply card) as a limitation on the unfettered exercise of the addressee's First Amendment right."

Douglas said the court had rested its decision "on the narrow ground that the addressee in order to receive his mail must request in writing that it be delivered."

"This amounts in our judgment to an unconstitutional abridgement of the addressee's First Amendment rights," he said. "The addressee carries an affirmative obligation which we do not think the government may impose on him. The requirement is almost certain to have a deterrent effect, especially as respects those who have sensitive positions. Their livelihood may be dependent on a security clearance."

Vienna's Mayor To Head Austria

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Vienna's Socialist mayor, Franz Jonas, was elected president of Austria Sunday by the closest margin in recent history.

Jonas, 65, defeated Conservative former Chancellor Alfons Gorbach, 66, by 63,482 votes.

The vote count was 2,324,474 to 2,260,992. There were about 94,000 blank ballots, apparently cast by those who wanted an independent candidate to run.

Jonas' term runs for six years. He succeeds Adolf Schaerf, who died in February during his second term. Under the Austrian constitution, new elections are called when a president dies.

Vote Is Near On Rights Bill

Debate Limit Move Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate may vote today on a Republican substitute for the voting-rights bill, hoping to clear the decks for Tuesday's climactic move to limit debate on the measure.

Southern senators, historic foes of any move to invoke cloture, are expected to line up with Republicans attempting to substitute their plan to insure voting rights for the one backed by the White House, the Democratic leadership and the Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Introduced by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., the GOP proposal provides for federal examiners to register voters under state qualification laws in any county where 25 or more persons have been denied the right to vote or register because of race or color.

This differs from the administration bill which provides for suspension of literacy tests and similar voter-qualification requirements as well as federal registration of voters in all or parts of seven Southern states.

Senate leaders expect to beat down the Republican substitute and are confident they can pass the cloture petition by the required two-thirds of those voting.

If cloture is invoked, it will be the third time in four years, and on a civil rights measure only the second time in history.

The historic unlimited debate for senators has often brought emotional, even tearful, pleas against any effort to restrict it. If the Senate invokes the cloture rule, each senator will be limited to an hour's speaking time on the bill and all its amendments. The leadership figures this will lead to a vote on passage itself by the end of the week.

Cheats Mar Bridge Test

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The 13th World Bridge Tournament ended under a cloud of scandal Sunday night as officials of the World Bridge Federation accused two British players of cheating.

The captain of the British team immediately ceded all points it had won, giving the United States second place in the tournament. Italy won the world championship and the "Bermuda Bowl" for the seventh consecutive time. Argentina was third in the four-nation finals.

Federation officials accused Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro of "transmitting information to each other in a prohibited manner" during play. Authoritative sources said they had been using finger signals during bidding.

Spaceport Schedule Is Clogged

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 1 super-rocket is scheduled for its first after-dark launching Tuesday to continue a flurry of space activity that began Saturday with the successful Project Fire mission.

Also on the firing line are an interplanetary probe on Friday and the four-day orbital test of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II on June 3.

Florida missile watchers may see quite a spectacle as the Saturn 1, the world's most powerful rocket, pushes the Pegasus 2 meteoroid-detection satellite toward orbit.

The launching is scheduled between 2:30 a.m. and 8:52 a.m. (EST). If the rocket gets off in darkness, the 300-foot exhaust flame from the eight-engine powerplant should be visible from much of Florida, weather permitting.

The Pegasus 2 satellite is to unfold two wing-like panels to a span of 96 feet to offer a broad target for meteoroids, particles which race through space with incredible speed. These bits of space dust, mostly remnants of disintegrated comets, are a possible hazard for astronauts.

The launching of the third in the Interplanetary Monitoring Platform series is set for 6:30 a.m. Friday. A Delta rocket is to hurl the payload into an eccentric orbit ranging from 120 to 130,000 miles high to investigate cosmic rays, magnetic fields and solar winds.

Stock Mart Prices Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — A few special situations brightened an otherwise dull and declining stock market early this afternoon.

Trading was moderate and changes of most key stocks were fractional.

Here and there were some wider losses—IBM, off 6, DuPont down nearly 3 and Boeing down 2.

Steels, autos, oils, airlines, tobaccos and building materials were narrowly mixed. Drugs, electrical equipments and mail order-retails were generally lower.

Opinion in Wall Street was cautious following last week's steep correction of the previous advance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.0 at 337.1 with industrials off 1.0, rails off .3 and utilities off .8.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was of 3.60 at 918.41.

night by the Organization of American States.

The OAS said its purpose will be to cooperate in the "restoration of normal conditions in the Dominican Republic" and to assist in creating "an atmosphere of peace and conciliation that will permit the functioning of democratic institutions."

The act creating the force was signed by OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, Col. Carlos de Meira Mattos for Brazil, Lt. Col. Alvaro Arias for Costa Rica, Maj. Policarpo Paz Garcia for Honduras, Col. Julio Gutierrez Rivera for Nicaragua and Gen. Palmer for the United States.

Mora said the objectives for which the force was created come within the "broad provisions of the (OAS) charter which are concerned with matters affecting the peace and security of the hemisphere."

The OAS also announced it had worked out an informal cease-fire between the two warring factions. A 24-hour truce it arranged to evacuate dead and wounded expired at noon Saturday, but fighting did not resume.

An OAS spokesman said the rebel leader, Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, and the junta chief, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, had agreed not to open fire unless attacked.

The cease-fire seemed to be working, and Sunday was one of the quietest days in Santo Domingo since the outbreak of the revolt that toppled the government of Donald Reid Cabral.

A rebel spokesman reiterated Sunday that Caamaño was ready to resign as soon as a government was agreed on. But Imbert resisted any compromise with the rebels and insisted they must surrender.

Caamaño reportedly told OAS negotiator Mora that the rebels hoped for a "constitutional solution." He also told Mora the rebels wanted the next Dominican election held under OAS supervision. Under the last constitution which the military threw out last year, the next regular presidential election is scheduled for late 1966.

Nonresident Welfare Aides OK'd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — County welfare directors and their employees can be nonresidents of their counties after Aug. 23 under a bill signed into law today by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Statute now requires welfare directors and staff members to be residents of the county in which they work.

The act was among 10 signed by the governor to take effect in 90 days. The new laws boosted to 37 the total for the current session of the General Assembly.

Others signed by the governor would:

Provide four-year terms for board members of a village board of public affairs.

Require Christmas tree haulers to carry invoices instead of a bill of lading.

Allow state assistance for training mentally deficient persons over age 21.

Permit applicants for appointments to police and fire departments to take examinations before reaching age 21 with a ban on appointment before they become 21 years old.

Require county engineers to draft assessments for operating costs for drainage facilities.

Permit counties to accept federal aid for county projects.

Clinic, School Bombed, Reds Say

TOKYO (AP) — A Communist broadcast declared today U.S. planes "bombed and strafed a hospital and a school" in North Viet Nam Sunday, killing or wounding 79 persons.

Peking's New China News Agency quoted a North Vietnamese announcement as saying the raiding aircraft had taken off from bases in Thailand.

It said the hospital was in the Nghia Dan district of Nghe An Province and the school was at Tu Tru, a market place in Thanh Hoah Province.

Bogus Intern Works Undetected 6 Weeks

NEW YORK (AP) — Daniel Bostick, 24, played the role of an interne at Harlem Hospital for six weeks before he was spotted by a hospital official.

Bostick, a Negro, was arraigned Saturday in criminal court on charges of practicing medicine without a license and impersonating a doctor.

He told Judge Neal P. Bottiglieri: "I wanted to do good for people. I never had a chance to be a doctor, so I just acted the part."

Hordes of visitors proved Thomas Jefferson's undoing. The steward at Monticello, his estate near Charlottesville, Virginia, groaned: "I have often sent a wagon-load of hay up to the stable and the next morning there would not be enough to make a bird's nest. I have killed a fine beef and it would all be eaten in a day or two." After Jefferson's death, his daughter had to sell Monticello to pay his debts.

Elsea Cited For His Part In Rescue

A Circleville man was one of five persons who received "Good Samaritan" awards in Ross County during the annual Council Industrial Awards banquet.

Thomas Elsea, 1371 N. Court St., was one member of the quintet credited during 1964 with being instrumental in saving the lives of eight persons.

Elsea's award was presented for rescuing Charles Butler and Clarence Castle who were trapped in a tree along the Scioto River near Yellow Bud during the spring floods on Mar. 11, 1964.

The banquet, conducted at Unioto School, was sponsored by the Ross County Safety Council and the Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio.

THE OTHER four recipients of awards, all of the Chillicothe area, were saluted for similar deeds of lifesaving.

Guest speaker for the event was Fred Lewis, manager of the safety council division of Dayton Chamber of Commerce.

Four Injured In Two-Car Collision

Four persons suffered minor injuries 3:35 p. m. yesterday in a two-car collision west of Circleville at Routes 22 and 56.

Taken to Berger Hospital for treatment were Linda Kay Crosby, Lillian Crosby, 39, both of Laurelville, and Brenda Hopkins and Larry Nelson Hopkins, 22, both of Milford.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Department officials noted Linda Crosby, driver of one of the cars, pulled from Route 56 into the path of an auto driven by Larry Hopkins. She was charged with failure to yield the right of way by Deputies John Wolford and George Linder.

At 7 p. m. Saturday two persons were taken to University Hospital following a one-car accident on Route 316 just east of Route 104.

Ruby Chester, 28, Ashville, the driver of the car and Evelyn Van Fossen, Ashville, a passenger both were released after receiving emergency treatment.

The driver was charged with driving at a speed excessive for road and weather conditions by Deputy Homer Adams.

Employers Urged To Hire Youths

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has appealed to the nation's employers to find work for the estimated 2 million youngsters who will be seeking summer jobs this year.

For some of them, the President said Saturday, a summer job might make the difference between returning to school in the fall or becoming a dropout.

Johnson said all federal departments and agencies have been directed to try to place one trainee for every 100 employs on their present payroll. This, he said, would mean about 25,000 jobs.

Man Accidentally Wounded While Resisting Arrest

Earl Lloyd Jester, 20, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, was accidentally shot in the leg early Sunday morning while trying to escape from Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies.

Deputies Homer Adams and auxiliary Dale Wolfe stopped Jester, who was driving a car on the Florence Chapel Road just east of Route 104 shortly after midnight. A 17-year-old girl and Gerald Van Sickles, Columbus, were passengers in the car.

According to Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Jester made a break for freedom as the deputies started to place him in the cruiser to be returned to the local jail for questioning.

Warning volleys were fired in the general direction of the fleeing man. One of the shot is believed to have ricocheted off the ground and struck Jester in the leg.

THE SHERIFF said the bullet that struck Jester was not recovered and that it could not be determined which of the deputies fired the actual shot.

The wound was not of a serious nature in that no bones were broken. However, the wounded man is in Berger Hospital and will be there for about two days, Radcliff reported.

"It is unfortunate Jester was injured," Radcliff said today. "However, he had been ordered to stop, and the deputies were justified in firing warning shots."

Charges of resisting arrest, driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving while his license was under revocation will be filed in Circleville Municipal Court, according to Radcliff.

Jester will also be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. This accusation will be filed in juvenile court.

Van Sickles, who owned the car Jester was driving, entered a plea of guilty in Municipal Court to permitting an unlicensed person to drive his car. He was fined $25 and costs by Judge Sterling M. Lamb. He also will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

DELINQUENCY charges have been lodged against the girl in juvenile court.

Jester has a previous record of arrests in the county including four times for investigation, twice for OMVI in which he was convicted both times, and for driving without a license.

West Virginia To Seek New AEC Facility

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —West Virginia will make a bid for a planned $300 million Atomic Energy Commission facility that will employ 2,000 workers, the Huntington Advertiser said today.

The story quoted an unnamed spokesman for the West Virginia Department of Commerce as saying the area between Huntington and Parkersburg along the Ohio River is being studied by the state before a proposal is made to the AEC.

The Portsmouth, Ohio, area also is reported making a pitch for the facility.

The story quoted the Commerce Department spokesman as saying, "The Huntington to Parkersburg area, because of its topography, is one of the prime considerations. We hope that perhaps the state may make one solid bid, rather than several scattered offers."

Strikes May Go 'Out of Style'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes may go out of style some day, and "the strike weapon has become an almost useless union pressure method in a few industries," Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin told Congress in an annual report Sunday.

The director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said "many unions or employers still feel, rightly or wrongly, that they cannot reach the most advantageous deal until they demonstrate brinkmanship almost to the very point of the midnight deadline."

Doctors Say Cleo Keaton 'Legally Sane'

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court today received a report from Lima State Hospital declaring the accused murderer of a Williamsport man, "legally sane."

Cleo V. Keaton, indicted for the Mar. 23 slaying of Maurice Francis, is to be returned here today by the sheriff's department. The report from Lima doctors noted that Keaton had been observed and tested extensively and the tests indicate that he is "sane."

Keaton was committed to the state hospital for a 30-day period following an arraignment session during which he pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

The 27-year-old Dayton man was taken into custody at about 3 a. m. in Jamestown (Greene County) on March 23, following the murder of Francis. Time of the shooting was set at about 1 a. m. Keaton was found in Francis' car when he was arrested.

JUDGE William Ammer said June 8 has been scheduled for a hearing on Keaton's "insanity plea". At that time, Keaton's attorney, Emmanu Nadlin of Dayton, will attempt to support Keaton's plea, according to court officials.

A trial date will not be scheduled until after the hearing on June 8, Judge Ammer said.

Sky Booms Next

Almost from the beginning of mass transportation systems, elimination of noise has been at least a secondary goal in new engineering concepts. To a remarkable extent these efforts have been successful. Certainly ships, trains and planes of today are much quieter than their predecessors.

But soon will come the supersonic airliners. While these vehicles may be completely silent to those who will ride them, it is admitted — even before one has been built — that they will leave their marks on groundlings, in the form of sonic booms.

Elevation and routes through sparsely inhabited areas will minimize the annoyance of the sharp cannon-like noises. But the Federal Aviation Agency in effect has ruled that supersonic airliners are a transport mode of the future, and even window-rattling booms cannot hold back such a big step.

A boom is not quite the same as the rattle of a Model T or the chug of a steam engine, and it is not likely many persons will ever think of it in nostalgic terms. But when it becomes possible to cross the Atlantic in two hours (and arrive in New York three hours earlier than it was when you left London) a 21-boom salute might seem a small price to pay for the convenience.

By Hal Boyle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Things a war reporter might never know about Viet Nam if he didn't read a guide book:

Homely girls get a break here. In picking a bride for their son, parents are more interested in a girl's character than her looks. This is because it is believed that beautiful women often meet with unkind fates.

Respect for one's elders is a way of life here. A wife after marriage is still expected to defer to the wishes of her parents and respect them above even her husband.

One's obligation to one's parents continues until their death. A man who tried to shrug off the care in his own home of an aged parent would lose all respect in the community.

A hired man never looks his boss straight in the eye. A Vietnamese feels it is an impertinence to stare at a person of higher standing than his own.

Few people drink alcohol except on ceremonial occasions, but many are "on the pipe." It has been estimated that as late as 1955 up to 30 per cent of the population used opium to some extent.

Belief in sorcery is prevalent in the villages. If an angry evil spirit invades your body, you try to placate it by politeness. If it is a greedy evil spirit, you bribe it with offerings of fake currency. And if it is a timid evil spirit, you try to scare it out of you by exploding firecrackers.

There is a far greater difference between the white collar man and the blue collar man than in our society. A Vietnamese who has become a professional man — a doctor, teacher or high government official — has a deep contempt for any kind of hand labor. He won't work in his garden, wash his own car — or even help his wife clear the dishes from the table.

It is considered in bad taste to display emotion of any kind in public, such as by weeping or shouting or kicking the flat tire of a bicycle. Men and women seen strolling arm in arm are thought of as vulgar.

But it is quite common, as in Moslem countries, for two men to hold hands or lock their little fingers together while walking side by side. Nobody ridicules them as effeminate — they're just buddies.

Sleeping is a Spartan matter. Because of the heat, many Vietnamese think bedding is a nuisance. So they bunk down on bare planks inlaid with mother of pearl.

This is a great land for holidays, fetes and ceremonies. For example, February is the month for gambling, September for selling persimmons.

But New Year's Day is one of the biggest. That is the time to pay debts, buy new clothes, and hang money from the window for unicorns to eat.

To be sure of good luck during the ensuing year, you have to take steps to see that your first guest of the day is someone of prestige. Thus if you have two pals named Phuoc — "happiness" and Cho — "dog" — you try to be sure that Phuoc shows up before Cho.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans' monthly payment debts are 11 per cent larger than a year ago. Business, too, is borrowing more. New York bank loans to commercial and industrial concerns have risen $1.4 billion since the first of the year. In the like period of 1964 they dropped by $574 million.

The nation's commercial banks as a whole have been net borrowers for 12 straight weeks from the Federal Reserve banks to meet the demand for loans from business and individuals. When money is easier and lending demands less urgent the banks have net eggs of excess reserves in the central banking system.

Are debts, business and individual, rising too fast and too high? Is this a sign, as sometimes in the past, that the business upswing is peaking? Is the net borrowed position of the commercial banks a warning that the Federal Reserve is tightening up on credit to keep the economy from overheating?

Some bankers are answering "not necessarily" to all three questions.

Delinquency of installment loans has risen very little. And this is reassuring. A worrisome factor: repayments of outstanding installment debt is taking 14 per cent of disposable income — what's left of an individual's income after taxes. That's a new high. At the same time borrowers have been taking on new installment debt at such a pace that they are pledging 16 per cent of their disposable income for future payments. This, too, is a record. Bankers say this is manageable for most families — unless times suddenly turn bad.

The rise in loans to business by New York banks of late has been chiefly to retail stores, public utility and transportation companies, apparel and leather goods producers. Earlier in the year loans were heavy to makers of machinery and other durable goods and to commodity dealers.

Bankers say the rising demand for loans is due to the general upswing in business and is actually smaller in relation to the growing economy than in past booms. Therefore, it needn't foretell an economic downturn.

In fact, many companies have been borrowing sparingly, because they've had more profits and more cash flow from such items as larger depreciation tax write-offs on which to draw to meet financing needs. The bigger total of loans is due to the fact that everything is bigger — the nation's business, the demands of consumers, the population, the number and size of firms.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN OLD SOUTH CAROLINA farmer was plodding down a highway on a hot summer morning when a stranger driving a new air-conditioned sedan offered him a lift.

"Where you headed for, pop?" asked the stranger after a while. The farmer, mystified by his first encounter with air conditioning, answered, "I WAS going to work in my terbaccy field, but it's gotten so much colder, I think I'll go home and butcher my hog!"

Critic George Oppenheimer phoned an old lady friend on her birthday, and before she could say a word, sang "Happy Birthday" to her. At the conclusion of his off-key rendition, he discovered he had the wrong number. "Don't let it bother you, Brother," consoled a stranger's voice at the other end. "You sure can use the practice."

Allergy: sensitivity to food, drugs and virtually any substance in man's environment.

Heredity: predisposes man to some familial diseases.

Nutritional disturbances: absence of water, essential foods vitamins and minerals. Scurvy, rickets and pellagra are deficiency diseases.

Injury: body tissue can be devitalized or destroyed by fractures, bruises, cuts and dislocations.

Physical agents: electricity, sun rays, X-ray radiation.

Tumors: new growths of tissue can occur anywhere in the body. These abnormal growths are either malignant (cancerous) or benign.

Advancing age: changes in the heart, lungs, kidneys and circulatory system of the body occur with age.

Emotions: play a role in every aspect of health and disease. Some physical illnesses are actually produced by emotional disturbances. The emotions can affect the functioning of the heart, blood vessels, brain and intestinal tract.

Atomic Power Setbacks

By John Chamberlain

Atomic power is having its setbacks. At Bodega Bay, in California, there is a gaping hole in the ground on the point of land known as Bodega Head. It was dug at a cost of four million dollars by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which originally planned to build an atomic power plant there. But the Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Reactor Licensing ruled that Bodega Head was too close to the San Andreas earthquake fault, and the PG and E hole remains to collect water.

Two other projected atomic power sites have been given up in recent years, even though they were far from the earthquake belt. The Consolidated Edison Company of New York abandoned its idea of building an atomic power plant in the New York City Borough of Queens, and the Rochester Gas and Electric Company cancelled plans for a high temperature gas-cooled graphite moderated reactor of an advanced type that was to have been located on the south shore of Lake Ontario.

The causes of the New York City and Lake Ontario cancellations have been variously stated. Both the Consolidated Edison and the Rochester Gas and Electric companies have denied that safety considerations played a major part in relinquishing their moves to atomic power, but Adolph Ackerman, a consulting engineer from Madison, Wisconsin, read a paper at a recent meeting of the American Power Conference in Chicago that broadly hints a general disillusionment with the idea that atomic power has yet been made foolproof.

Mr. Ackerman, as the AEC's gadfly, is not loved by any of the people who want to see atomic power expand. But he is the sort of critic who is needed just to keep enthusiasts from jumping off the deep end. His remarks at the Chicago meeting included a summary of adverse experiences in various existing atomic power plants that have not hitherto been made known to the public. Some of his facts, which he dug out of technical papers, trade journals and official government publications are a bit on the hair-raising side.

Thus, the Dresden Atomic Power Plant, which is fifty miles southwest of Chicago, has had a fairly lengthy record of shutdowns. On November 15, 1960, it was closed because eight stainless steel control rod drives cracked from stress corrosion. It took six and one-half months to get the plant back to functioning, and there have been various shutdowns since.

At Rowe, Massachusetts, the Yankee Atomic Power Plant has had its troubles. In 1962 the plant superintendent wrote: "In refueling, we scrapped about $750,000 of core parts, damaged the plant considerably with silver contamination and accumulated two months of downtime that should not have been." A year later a Yankee Atomic Power report "found the control rod picture gloomy... no sure-fire no-problem choice."

At the Elk River Atomic Power Plant in Minnesota there has been "radioactivity in stack gases, surges in piping system, and heat flux irregularities." The plant was shut down for three months in 1964.

Mr. Ackerman lists the shutdowns at the Indian Point Atomic Power Plant of Consolidated Edison, which was "off full-power for a total of six-and-one-half months" in 1964; at the Hallam Atomic Power Plant in Nebraska, where there has been trouble with "three moderator elements"; and at the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant at Lagoona Beach, Michigan, where "safety devices prevented a serious accident" from "a leak in a tube in No. 1 steam generator" that "caused a sodium-water reaction."

As an outsider, I am not competent to pass on the seriousness of Mr. Ackerman's charges that "at the present embryonic stage of development, an atomic power plant does not measure up to the reliability demanded for public utility service." But it is the duty of a reporter to see to it that pros and cons affecting the safe development of atomic power are well-publicized. After all, an accident in an atomic power plant could poison a lot of people.

56% OF SALES ARE FROM NEW CUSTOMERS. As the old saying goes "Cream will come to the top". These purchasers have taken time out to make a comparison.

33.3% OF SALES HAVE BEEN IN THE WILDCAT AND ELECTRA SERIES.

Businessmen, Congress OK LBJ's Tax Cut

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson Administration handed Congress a $4 billion excise-tax cut proposal last week.

The President called the program "a fiscal dividend." Businessmen generally were in enthusiastic agreement. So, it appeared, was Congress.

Items affected are as diverse as cigarette lighters and safety deposit boxes; air conditioners and bowling alleys; pool tables and fountain pens. Some cuts, those of taxes on furs, luggage, toilet articles and jewelry, would do away with the tax paid by the consumer at the store counter. Others would trim or drop entirely taxes paid by the manufacturer and passed on to the consumer.

Johnson's program would drop $1.75 billion worth of these long-standing taxes on products and services on July 1; another $1.75 billion worth would disappear on Jan. 1. Subsequent reductions totaling $464 million would take effect on Jan. 1 of each year from 1967 through 1969. Excise taxes on telephone service, last to be phased out, would be eliminated that year.

Johnson asked that the excise tax on automobiles, biggest item on the list, be halved from about $230 on the average car to $115 by 1967. The House Ways and Means Committee went one step further, proposing a wiping out of the tax by 1968.

In any case, July 1 tax cuts on cars and air conditioners, products now in heavy demand, would be retroactive to last week to prevent a slowdown in buying in anticipation of lower prices.

"This is not our first tax cut," Johnson told Congress. "It will not be our last."

The proposed $4 billion reduction was more than double what Johnson had recommended in January. Prosperity, he explained, had put the government in a better position to afford it; income tax revenues both in fiscal 1965 and 1966 are expected to be $1.5 billion higher than anticipated.

Excise tax cuts also may be needed, some observers added, to help take the sting out of a $5 billion a year increase in Social Security taxes due to start Jan. 1.

Economic figures released during the week generally were favorable, but some showed a slowdown in gains. Government statistics for April listed higher personal income and industrial production. Nonfarm employment increased, as did factory orders for durable goods. Corporate profit in the January-March quarter were higher.

The president's council of economic advisors said there was "every reason to expect a great many more months of good economic expansion" for a business growth that already has set peacetime records.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever happened to the Communists who, President Johnson said, had taken over the revolution in the Dominican Republic?

That's one of the least clear points in all the confusion — and there has been plenty — about the revolution which started April 24 and this country's role in it. There were three stages:

1. When this country didn't even mention the Reds as a problem.

2. When this country said they had seized control of the revolution.

3. Now when U.S. officials say the Reds are not in control. Throughout there has been one major figure, Col. Francisco Camacho Deno, who has been in command of the rebels from the beginning and through all three stages.

When Johnson sent in the Marines April 28 he said the purpose was to save American lives in the upheaval. U.S. officials, further explaining, said this country was taking no sides.

Camacho was the rebel commander at that time.

A few days later, May 2, Johnson announced the U.S. goal in the Dominican Republic was to prevent a Communist takeover.

He explained in a nationwide broadcast: "What began as a popular democratic revolution committed to democracy and social justice very shortly moved and was taken over and really seized and placed into the hands of a band of Communist conspirators."

But on that date Camacho was still called the commander. Now Sunday, three weeks later, The Associated Press from Santo Domingo reported U.S. officials are said to be convinced that Communist leaders no longer dominate the rebel command.

The U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States, Ellsworth Bunker, was reported as saying:

"The U.S. forces in the Dominican Republic are not there to support either side against the other."

And Camacho is still the boss of the rebels.

The AP also said that in the view of the men shaping American policy there the Communist threat remains serious and would quickly erupt into a new bid for power and a second Cuba if U.S. troops were withdrawn.

Various groups have been involved in the revolution. And no doubt Communists were. A revolution is made to order for them. Nor can there be any doubt that in the Dominican Republic, as elsewhere, they would turn it into a Communist state if they could.

But this question, despite the various official statements, hasn't been answered:

If Camacho was rebel commander all the way through — even when Johnson said the Reds had taken control of the country — revolution — was Caamano under their thumb? This writer has seen nothing to indicate he was. But, if he was, what has happened to the thumb?

Or was the information Johnson got about events in the Dominican Republic wrong or exaggerated?

But this isn't the only confusion.

Last week when the civilian-military junta attacked Caamano's rebels, there were printed reports in this country that the Marines helped the junta.

Johnson's press secretary, George Reedy, said: "The President's instructions to the troops when they were sent in were to observe neutrality."

But why would they remain neutral if they were sent into to prevent a Communist takeover and the Communists had control of the revolution? Could their very presence be called neutral when sending them in was an anti-Communist action?

But Secretary of State Dean Rusk says this country is pursuing a policy of "complete neutrality" in the Dominican Republic.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An unusual television program was born because Fred W. Friendly, president of CBS News, picked up three speeding tickets within 18 months and, as part of his punishment, had to take a driver education course.

The experience two years ago developed into tonight's "National Drivers Test" on CBS (10-11 EDT) after which millions of drivers may rate their skills in emergencies.

Viewers will be projected into an assortment of traffic situations. A team of stunt drivers have deliberately recreated some of the most common types of accidents.

CBS also has arranged to have some 2,000 drivers in four cities attend the broadcast and score themselves. These results will be run through a computer so the self-testers at home will know how they stack up with the members of the sample.

"Almost every man who drives a car thinks he's pretty good at it," said Bill Leonard, CBS News vice president. "I think it has something to do with maleness and is pretty basic."

Leonard said that the program will be among the most expensive turned out by CBS News.

"This one involved all the normal broadcasting expenses plus the cost of setting up the automobile crashes and arranging for a sample of 2,000 people," he explained.

The program has been scheduled to run just before the Memorial Day weekend, when automobile fatalities usually run high, in the hope of saving some lives. The show has been endorsed by, among other groups, the National Safety Council. More than 60 million copies of the official test form have been distributed.

"The demand was so great that we finally ran out of money to print up more, but anyone can score himself in the test if he just has pencil and paper handy during the program," Leonard said.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Well-Guarded Secrets!

DEAR ABBY: I would like to take exception to your statement that women who do not give their recipes are selfish, and that but for the generosity of others would not have a collection themselves. I spend many hours going through cook books, magazines and newspapers culling and trying out new recipes. I have experimented and even improvised on some recipes trying to perfect them for my guests.

Although it may be flattering to be asked for my recipes, is it not rather selfish on the part of another to expect to be given a recipe which has entailed much time and effort on my part in order to make her own entertaining easier? Let's be fair to the hostess.

"TI OTHER SIDE"

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I'm selfish, but here's how I got that way: I love to cook and am always experimenting. Many times I eat the horrible failures for lunch. I once concocted a magnificent lamb dish which took me three days to make. But from the compliments I received from my guests, it was well worth the trouble. One of my guests asked for the recipe, and I foolishly gave it to her. For the next six months we were served that lamb dish everywhere we went to dinner. It's no treat any more. I am now working on something else, and this time I am not going to give out the recipe. If someone wants to serve it for some special occasion, I will make it for her and send it over. Please don't use my name. Stan would crown me.

CALL ME SELFISH

DEAR ABBY: I haven't the nerve to come right out and tell people that I don't give out my recipes, but I get around it by stalling them off until they forget about it. Many women do not follow the instructions, and some of them use cheaper ingredient, or substitutes for the "makings" that should go into the recipe if it is going to turn out right. Then they blame the person who gave them the recipe when theirs is a flop.

"ME"

DEAR ABBY: So you think that a person who doesn't give out her recipes is selfish? Well, I can't go along with you on that, Abby.

I used to give my recipes to anyone who asked for them, and I felt flattered to think they were wanted. Then I started getting complaints because theirs didn't turn out like mine. It got back to me on more than one occasion that "Flo left something out of the recipe on purpose." I would never do such a low thing.

I've been hurt so many times by remarks like that, I made up my mind that I wasn't going to give out any more recipes.

FLO IN BOSTON

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has a reputation for being a fabulous cook, but she is another one of those selfish gals who won't give out her recipes. One afternoon while I was alone in her kitchen for a few minutes, I wanted to find out her secret for making fresh cranberry pie, so I took the liberty of glancing through her cook book. And do you know that little sneak had all her recipes written in some crazy code!

LBJ Urges More Women Enter Government Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has applied additional heat in his talent hunt for more women in top government jobs.

He's sent out word around the country and through some key women to keep suggestions coming to chief talent scout John W. Macy, head of the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

And, the results were showing this week, with the appointment of the country's first Negro woman ambassador, Patricia Roberts Harris of Washington to represent the U.S. in Luxembourg. She's the third woman Johnson has named to an ambassadorial post.

Besides that, the President took the opportunity to needle a bit when 10 men were honored in a White House rose garden ceremony as winners of government career service awards.

"Where are the women?" the President wanted to know.

He said he couldn't believe "The odds are 10 to nothing in favor of men when it comes to making an award based on merit."

"I think sometimes we men are inclined to think that because we weigh more, are taller and our shoe size is bigger that this is also true of our intelligence and dedication," he commented.

Saying he'd never found this so in his 35 years in public service Johnson declared that promotions and awards in government aren't based on the race, religion, political party or sex of the individual.

From the very start of his administration Johnson has made his position clear.

He summoned Texas Judge Sarah T. Hughes, one of the few women on the federal bench, to

Lebanon Area Bracing for Rally by Klan

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Warren County authorities say they will take no chances with a scheduled Ku Klux Klan rally next weekend.

Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. said last night his force normally consists of nine men, but he will call in various auxiliaries and reserves—more than a hundred of them—during the three-day rally "to take care of the traffic problem."

"We can't anticipate what these people are going to be doing or what outsiders are going to be involved in it," the sheriff said. "Whether it gets out of the traffic category remains to be seen."

Handbills signed by the Knights of the K.K.K. circulated in the area last weekend announcing that the rally will be held on a farm north of Interstate 71 between Harveysburg and Oregonia.

The handbills say James R. Venable, a Klan leader from Georgia, will speak at 8 p.m. Friday and "cross burnings are scheduled for Saturday and Monday night at 8 p.m."

Cleveland Orchestra Is Hailed in Finland

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—An audience including high Finnish dignitaries stomped on the floor and refused to leave after the Cleveland Orchestra's concert honoring Finland's national composer Jan Sibelius Sunday night.

Conductor George Szell took a dozen curtain calls and the orchestra rewarded the audience with two extra numbers.

2 Diagnostic Center Inmates Are Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The search continued today for two 14-year-old boys from opposite ends of the state who escaped from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

Larry Burns of Amherst, Lorain County, and Jerry Townley of Loveland, near Cincinnati, had just returned from church when they sneaked into an office and climbed out through a window, a spokesman said.

Sunday Liquor Sale Hearing Is Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Backers of a controversial bill to allow the sale of liquor on Sunday may get some idea this week of the measure's chances.

The House Liquor Committee called its first hearing for Wednesday night on the bill which cleared the Senate two weeks ago by the narrowest of margins.

Sen. David Matia, D-Cuyahoga, and other Cleveland Democrats introduced the measure they claim is needed to boost Ohio as a convention state.

Similar proposals have been introduced at previous sessions but none ever has come this far. Some observers say the legislation will fail in the House despite a local option provision designed to overcome objections of previous years.

Nine bills are on tonight's House calendar as the legislature begins its 19th week of work, including one that would regulate Ohio's milk producers, haulers, and processors.

The lower chamber also will vote on bills revising laws governing sheriffs' allowances for feeding prisoners and removing a $10,000 debt limit on cemetery companies and associations.

Among measures up for Senate action tonight are proposals to allow the use of data processing equipment for the selection of prospective jurors and to increase the penalty for the illegal taking of deer to $500 and 30 days in jail.

A full round of committee activity is on tap this week. It will include hearings on reapportionment and embattled measures to extend public school bus transportation to private and parochial school pupils.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on a half-dozen proposed substitutes for the reapportionment plan rejected by voters in the May 4 primary.

In other business, Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, indicated a subcommittee report on pay raises for state employees will be given to the House Finance Committee Tuesday.

Reports are that the measure has been amended to confine most of the increases to state workers earning $400 a month or less.

The Senate State Government Committee is considering a House-approved bill to boost the pay of top state officials, including that of the governor from $25,000 to $35,000 a year. The committee is expected to vote on the measure at a Thursday morning session.

18 Arrested At Cockfight Near Oxford

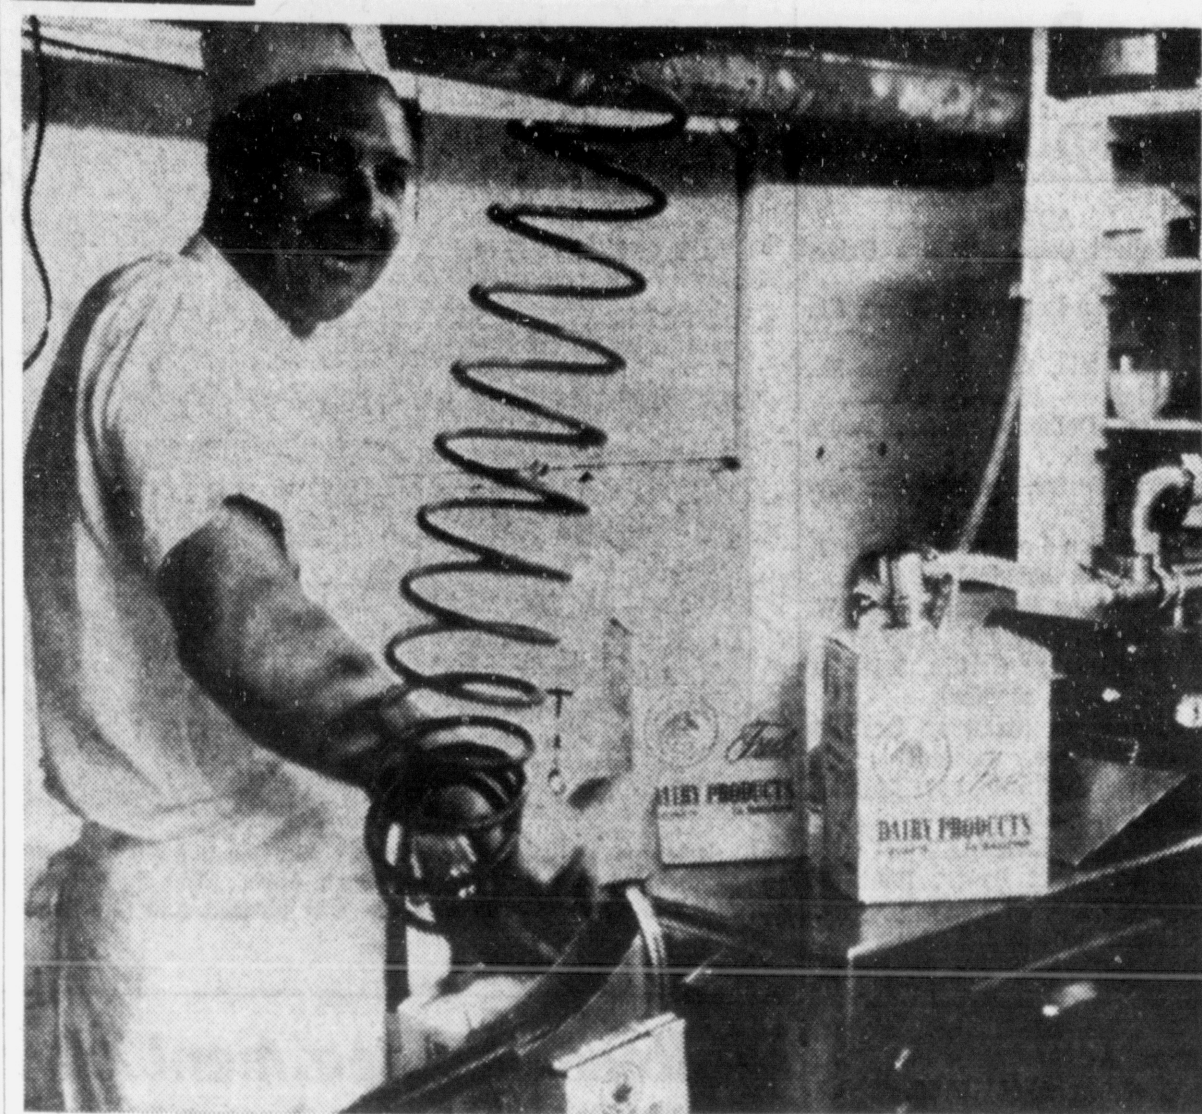

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Eighteen men face hearings in Butler County Court at Oxford as the result of a raid Sunday on a cockfighting arena near Millville.

Sheriff's deputies said the men were released on bond but some 38 confiscated roosters remained in custody at the county garage.

Detective Lt. Clifton Hyde of the Sheriff's Department said the arena in a wooded area behind the home of David Cole, 39, had reportedly been in operation for about two weeks.

Cole was among those who were arrested. Two of those arrested gave addresses in Law-

Presbyterians Hear Call For Tight Morality Rule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attitudes about sex today have some Christians worried.

They want church standards on the matter reinforced.

The concern was in evidence at the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church here, with delegates from several regions pressing for reinforced emphasis on sexual morality.

They said there were indications of lax teachings by churchmen themselves about extra-marital sex relations.

The 3½-million-member denomination was asked to reaffirm "our church's historical moral standards" in opposition to what was called a drift to license.

"Any abuse of sexual intimacy outside the responsible bonds of holy matrimony destroys pure love, damaging marriage and causing guilty alienation from God," declared a proposed resolution.

It was offered by the Presbytery of Omaha, Neb. Others similar to it came from regional units of Peoria, Ill., and Shenandoah, Pa.

They cited news reports of "churchmen advocating a moral relativism holding that 'lists of cans and cannots are meaningless,' that 'no sexual relationship should be absolutely condemned by the church' . . ."

According to their view, the resolution protested, "theology should adapt itself to the times instead of applying 'juridical' or 'thou shalt not' ethics . . . thereby excusing fornication by engaged couples as no sin."

However, the Commandments, including that against adultery, are "permanently binding" on all Christians, the resolution maintained, adding:

"Our Lord Jesus, while emphasizing that superior love, which encompasses and is the ultimate purpose of all the law and the prophets, still claims that He came not to abolish the law."

Further, the resolution as-

Steel Output Slips in May

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel ingot output and finished steel shipments in May will slip below April's despite the efforts of mills to become current in deliveries, Steel Magazine predicted today.

The national metalworking weekly journal attributed the expected drop to the need to repair equipment that has been pushed hard for several months.

Steel ingot production this week will decline slightly from the 2,650,000 tons the magazine estimated were poured last week. Steel said that's equivalent to an annual rate of 139 million tons. Output in 1964 totaled a record 127 million tons.

The publication said continued strength in steel demand is prompting mills to keep controls on order acceptance.

Now that the steel labor contracts have been extended to Sept. 1, Steel said, mills are trying to catch up on shipments and get into an improved delivery position.

New ordering has subsided only moderately, Steel said, and customers have not canceled orders or requests for shipments. In fact, one mill in the Chicago area reported an increase of 20 per cent over the week ago level, making its orders flow equal to 80 per cent of capacity.

Plates continue to be the product in strongest demand, Steel said. Activity is spurred by strong construction schedules in cargo shipbuilding, deep pressure tanks, dam projects (there are now 98 underway in the U.S.), and equipment in chemical processing and refining industries, Steel added.

Seabees Due To Hunt 'Bugs'

Embassies Face Electronic Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is sending out squads of Seabees to prevent "bugs" from infesting its foreign embassies.

To prevent recurrences, the State Department has picked 155 Seabees, 4 construction specialists and 30 Marines to supervise work on 15 major embassy construction jobs during the coming fiscal year.

The decision was revealed in closed testimony before the House Appropriations subcommittee in February. Portions of the testimony were first released last March 31. Another portion was released Sunday.

State Department security chief G. Marvin Gentile told the subcommittee that despite American security local workmen apparently sneaked in the electronic listening devices during the basic construction of the embassies.

Said Gentile: "I think our experiences have shown that in the way we have handled our affairs in new construction and reconstruction projects overseas, we have let ourselves be open for a real chance to be 'had' by the opposition."

He said the Seabees will be used for close and constant observation of foreign workmen to prevent the planting of surreptitious listening devices on 15 major embassy building and renovation projects around the world.

Marine guards will be assigned to the building sites during non-working hours. The locations weren't given, but officials said most would be at posts behind the Iron Curtain.

In addition, Gentile said some Seabees will be sent to Frankfurt, Beirut, Panama and Tokyo where they will fan out to area embassies to prepare specially secure rooms.

Negotiations Planned in Milk Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Negotiators meet today at City Hall in an effort to settle a strike that has cut the flow of milk to a trickle in this city of 300,000 since last Wednesday.

The meeting of representatives of six dairies and the striking Teamsters Local 361 was arranged by Mayor John Potter in response to a telegram from the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Doyle, chairman of the city's Labor-Management Citizens Committee.

Dairy and Teamster officials reportedly have held private discussions, but no official meetings have been held.

Community pressure calling for a settlement has been increasing, but Health Director Dr. Hilbert Mark says there has been no acute shortage of milk supplies.

Teamster and dairy officials have arranged a system for getting milk to hospitals, children's homes, nursing homes and similar institutions.

The union is demanding wage increases in a new contract covering some 500 drivers and plant workers.

lar steel buildings are dormitories, mess halls, food storage areas, offices, computer rooms and the main theater where the battle staff would assemble.

The center has its own seven-room hospital, with separate places for major and minor surgery, a recovery room, laboratory, dental clinic and other facilities.

There is nothing outside the 9,565-foot mountain — "a tough old lady," one officer called it — to indicate what is inside. The entrance, reached from a road winding up the mountain side, looks like the mouth of a railroad tunnel.

The entrance tunnel runs for about a quarter-mile inside the mountain before reaching the main opening the command center. The tunnel is curved, in part to lessen blast effects.

At this inner approach to the center, crews will replace the giant eight-inch-thick blast doors spaced about 50 feet apart. One of the motor-driven doors will be kept closed at all times.

In all, contractors supervised by the Army Engineers blasted about a million tons of granite out of the mountain to create the three miles of tunnels. It took a million pounds of dynamite to do that job.

Information is the lifeline of the North American Air Defense Command. Without the latest, most complete and fastest information, the NORAD commander would be gravely hampered in reaching what could be life-or-death judgments.

He must be able to communicate those judgments to Washington, the Strategic Air Command, and to Ottawa, Canada's capital.

Into the combat operations center must flow an unending stream of data on aircraft approaching North America, on suspicious submarines off the coasts, on satellites whirling overhead, on readings from the giant missile-warning radar screens.

The high-speed computers gobble up this data, along with inputs reflecting the degree of Communist military readiness, deployments of Red forces and even political factors.

In as short a time as 11 seconds, the electronic brains can digest this information, interpret it and then display it on two screens facing the NORAD commander in his theater at the heart of the underground complex.

First Lady Urges Nation Preserve Natural Beauty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opening the two-day White House conference on natural beauty, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said today it is important to remind the American people "that the beauty of their land depends on their own initiative and their will."

The President's wife said ugliness is "an eroding force on the people of our land," but one which "every man, woman, and child can attack and contribute to defeating."

The First Lady spoke at a meeting summoned to promote President Johnson's program for making America more beautiful.

It has been reported that before the conference ends it probably will ask Johnson to set up a national council to centralize efforts to carry out the program. One of its first tasks might be a check of federal grants to see if the government is getting its money's worth in beautification projects.

More than 1,000 persons were invited to the conference, but only 120 were official members of the 15 discussion panels. After five-minute talks by each panel member, another half hour was devoted to questions and discussions from the floor.

William M. Bennett, head of California's Public Utilities Commission, suggested that tax incentives be provided to produce a nationwide system of underground utilities.

If the government can spend an estimated $2 billion a year on depletion allowances to spur the search for oil and gas, he suggested the same thing might be done to help pay the cost of putting unsightly power lines underground.

There were similar tax-incentive suggestions to hasten the flow of abandoned automobiles to the new giant crushing and grinding machines.

Most of Burgary Loot Recovered

Most of the equipment taken in last month's burglary at S. Court St. Elementary School has been recovered by Circleville and Columbus Police.

Sgt. Turney Ross returned today from Columbus with two film strip machines and a clarinet. They are part of the total loot that was valued at $1,500.

Sgt. Ross said the only items still missing are a television set and two records.

James Dade of Columbus, charged with the burglary, has been bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $1,000. He entered a plea of guilty during a preliminary hearing here last week.

A juvenile allegedly involved in the burglary has been released to authorities in Franklin County.

Circuit Blow
By Mowery
Brings Win

Big Blast Gives
Westfall 3-1 Victory
Over Piketon Nine

Westfall downed Piketon, previously undefeated in the Scioto Valley Conference, by a 3-1 count Saturday on the Mustang diamond. A two-run homer by Ray Mowery was the key hit.

The winners finished second in the SVC with a 2-2 record. The losers tied for first in the conference standings with a 3-1 record.

Paint Valley also posted a 3-1 season mark. Logan Elm and Union each had 1-3 records and Laurelville, the sixth member of the conference, did not have a baseball team.

Saturday's game was a pitcher's duel between Westfall's Danny Bowen and Harrison of Piketon. Neither team was able to score until the final inning.

THE VISITORS came up with the first tally when a pair of errors and an intentional walk loaded the bases. Their run was scored on a sacrifice fly.

The Mustangs did not come alive until two men were out. At that point, Bowen deadlocked things by blasting a homerun.

Delbert Haney followed Bowen with a single. Then Mowery ended the game with a four-bag blast that scored two runs. Both Harrison and Bowen went the route. Harrison struck out four batters and walked one. Bowen whiffed six, walked one intentionally and allowed only one hit.

The Paul Hoskins coached Westfall team finished its season with a 12-6 record.

Reds Plagued
By Trouble;
Phils Win

HOUSTON (AP) —The Cincinnati Reds had nothing but trouble Sunday as the Philadelphia Phils beat them 4-3 in ten innings.

The second-place Reds couldn't get a man on base until the fourth inning when Vada Pinson made the first hit off righthander Ray Culp. And by that time, their troubles had already begun.

They started in the Phils' half of the fourth when Johnny Callison hit a line drive down the right field line. The ball bounced into the Phils' bullpen where Gary Wagner, an off-duty pitcher, got into Frank Robinson's way.

By the time Robinson fielded the ball, Callison was approaching third and went home when the throw got past Deron Johnson.

The Reds won a partial victory in the ensuing argument—Callison was called back and was credited with a ground rule double—but he scored the game's first run later that inning on a fielder's choice.

Culp continued to shut out the Reds and in the meantime Philadelphia picked up two more runs—one in the sixth as the result of starter Johnny Tsitouris's control troubles, and another in the eighth when Callison hit a home run.

Toronto Hurler
Wins Own Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Baseball pitchers are supposed to be poor hitters but Toronto's Mickey Sinks appears to be an exception.

Sinks singled home the winning run Sunday as Toronto defeated Buffalo 2-1 in the second game of a doubleheader and sweep the four-game International League series.

In the first game, the Maple Leafs battered the Bisons 12-2. Elsewhere, Atlanta swept a doubleheader from Columbus 3-2 and 5-1, Syracuse shut out Rochester twice 1-0 and 2-0, and Toledo defeated Jacksonville 7-4.

Jim Wood Adds
Regional Events
To Win Laurels

Jimmy Wood, Circleville High School's splendid hurdler, added two more victories to his laurels and a berth in the state track meet Saturday.

He breezed to wins in both the 120-yard high and the 180-yard low hurdles in the regional track meet at Worthington.

Wood's time of 14.3 in the highs is the best reported in the state this year, according to Jim Lint, his track coach.

It sets a regional record—both marks will go as records since it is the first regional meet—and is also a track mark at the Worthington all-weather oval.

Wood's time in the 180-yard lows was 19.6.

Preliminaries for the state meet are scheduled to begin 9 a. m. Saturday with finals to start at 2:30 p. m.

THE South Central Ohio League will have another representative in the state meet in Gary Card, Washington C. H. sprinter.

Card placed second in the 100-yard dash at the regional meet. The Tiger thinclads have a pair of meets remaining prior to the end of the school year.

Tonight they will compete in the first Teays Valley Invitational track meet and on Wednesday the team will compete in the Lancaster Relays.

Durable Old Offenhauser
May Be Near End of Road

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —Texan A. J. Foyt, who saved the durable old Offenhauser roadster from extinction by booting one to victory in the 1964 Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, may preside at final rites for the last of the breed in the 49th running May 31.

When two weekends of trials ended Sunday with a thunderous but bloodless crash of an Offy roadster with Bob Ma-thouser of Gardena, Calif., at the wheel, the 33-car field was fixed like this:

Seventeen rear-engine Fords, including the Lotus-Ford in which Foyt set a 10-mile qualifying record of 161.233 m.p.h. May 14.

Ten rear-engine Offenhausers, in one of which the sixth-best qualifying speed of 158.416 was set by rookie Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C.

Four of the old reliable Offy roadsters, which the late Bill Vukovich brought to Speedway prominence in the early 1950s.

A four-wheel-drive Ferguson-Novis which Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., put in the third three-car row at 157.467, and a Novi roadster which Jim Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y., qualified at the last weekend's top speed of 156.863.

The Novis are supercharged V8s, designed by the late Bud Winfield, which develop up to 700 horsepower but long have been plagued by troubles ranging from mechanical breakdowns to crashes.

There were seven rear-engine Ford V8s in the 1964 field but only Rodger Ward of Indianapolis finished in the top 10, taking second for a remarkable record over the last six years of 1-2-3-1-4-2.

Ward will be missing from the line-up May 31 for the first time in 15 years. He wrecked his new Watson-Ford trying to qualify Saturday after having assorted troubles with four engines.

He tried again Sunday after the field was full and would have made it if he had been satisfied with his first full lap at around 154 miles an hour. He signaled timers to start counting on the next lap and slowed to an average of 153.623 m.p.h. That was 34th best.

OSU Baseballers
Win League Title

CHICAGO (AP) —The Buckeyes of Ohio State captured their first Big Ten baseball crown in 10 years Saturday when they kayoed Michigan State in a season-ending doubleheader.

Actually, Ohio State clinched the championship with a come-from-behind 13-10 triumph in the first game and then downed the Spartans 2-0 in the nightcap on the strength of one hit.

The Buckeyes put themselves into championship position with a hard-earned 4-3 triumph over Michigan Friday in 16 innings.

Mighty Mouth Clay Under Guard

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — Police from the state, county and city kept a round-the-clock guard over Cassius Clay today while the heavyweight champion was cooking up another crazy plot aimed at upsetting Sonny Liston at the weigh-in Tuesday.

"It's going to be more exciting than the last one," promised Mighty Mouth. If it even matches the wild scenes of Feb. 25, 1964 at Miami Beach, then the Tuesday night return fight may almost take a back-seat to the ceremony of the scales.

The cocky, poem-spouting Clay claims he "psyched" Liston into defeat with his seemingly hysterical outbursts before the first fight. The brash youngster ranted and raved, stomped and yelled. But that night he won the world crown when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round, claiming an injured left shoulder.

Although the 23-year-old undefeated champion declared he wasn't afraid of any possible attack on him by followers of the slain Malcolm X—who left the Black Muslim group of which Clay is a member—uniformed police, supported by plain-clothesmen, guarded Clay's motel room and followed him wherever he went.

"No man scares me," said Clay. "You gonna scare people out of the arena. You gonna scare Liston. You can bring in an army but you won't scare me."

Despite the scare talk — which Clay called newspaper talk — the odds favoring Liston dropped from 8-5 to 13-10 and may even fall to even money or swing to Clay by fight time, 9:30 p.m., EST.

Liston was a 7-1 favorite for the first fight. A poll of newsmen from all over the globe showed a surprising 42-32 edge for Clay.

Clay, finished with his training, was advising newsmen to pick him this time.

"You didn't listen to me before," said Clay. "Now I'm telling you, I'm gonna wear him out and then move in for the kill."

just like the last time." "I don't care what that man says or does," said Liston. "I'm gonna catch up to him sometime and get him. He may run but not forever. I'm in the best shape of my life. My left shoulder is fine."

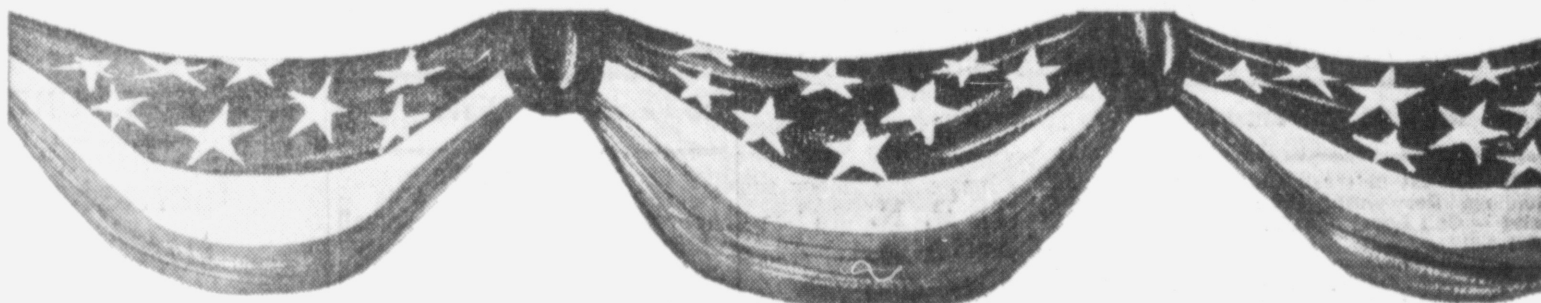

Only a comparative handful will see the fight live, but it will be beamed across the country to 258 arenas and theaters, will be radio broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting System and beamed overseas to England by Early Bird transmission.

Akron Collects
Conference Title

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A slim half-point gave Akron the Ohio Conference track championship Saturday over defending titlist Mount Union—58 to 57 1/2.

Five records were set, four of them by Mount Union, the fifth by Baldwin - Wallace. B-W's Tom Burnett set his mark in the pole vault with a leap of 15 feet. Mount Union's Larry Graves jumped 48 feet, 5 3/4 inches in the triple jump; Jim Fox ran the mile in 4:14 and the 880 in 1:52; and Nate Hawthorne streaked the 440 in 47.2.

Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phils and acting manager Bob Swift of the Detroit Tigers are natives of Salina, Kan.

Dean Chance Mystified as Losses Mount

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What's wrong with Dean Chance?

"Don't ask me; I can't explain it," said the 1964 Cy Young winner after the Chicago White Sox battered him from the mound en route to an 8-3 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels Sunday.

Chance, whose 20-9 record last season earned him the award as the best pitcher in the majors, now has dropped three games in 13 days and has seen his earned run average soar to 3.88.

He lasted only 2 2-3 innings against the White Sox, giving up six runs on five hits and five walks.

"All I know is that this is the worst I've ever pitched," said Chance, who posted a 3-0 record before slipping into his losing streak. "It can't be that I'm not in shape because I pitched three complete games this spring.

At this time last season, the 23-year-old right-hander had a 3-1 record and a 2.03 earned-run average.

Chance never gave himself a chance against Chicago. He walked the first two batters in the game, and the White Sox were on their way to a three-run inning. He finished his brief performance by walking pitcher Joe Horlen with two out and the bases loaded in the third.

The Ohio farmer, however, wasn't the only pitcher with problems Sunday. Detroit's Hank Aguirre had two Baltimore runners caught off first base, but both escaped the traps and made it safely to second.

Bob Johnson reached second in the fourth inning when no Tiger covered the base. Luis Aparicio made it in the seventh when Don Demeter's throw hit him in the back. Both Johnson and Aparicio scored, helping the Orioles to a 7-3 victory. Baltimore completed the doubleheader sweep by taking the nightcap 8-3.

In other American League games, Boston swept Cleveland 6-2 and 8-3 and Washington whipped New York 7-3 before bowing 3-2. Rain washed out Kansas City at Minnesota.

In the National, Pittsburgh trampled Milwaukee 10-1, San Francisco defeated Houston 5-2, Chicago edged Los Angeles 3-2 in 16 innings, Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati 4-3 in 10 and St. Louis trimmed New York 8-7 in 12.

Horlen, Eddie Fisher and Hoyt Wilhelm each pitched three innings as Chicago snapped a three-game losing streak.

Pete Ward led the attack, driving in three runs with two doubles and a sacrifice fly.

Baltimore's Jack Brandt drove in five runs with four hits as the Tigers dropped their fifth doubleheader this season. Brandt's two-run homer followed by Norm Siebern's blast in the ninth inning clinched the opening-game triumph for Steve Barber.

Brandt capped a four-run first inning in the nightcap with a two-run single, then ignited a four-run ninth with another single. Bill Freeha and George Thomas homered for Detroit.

Two errors by Cleveland's Chuck Hinton brought the Red Sox three unearned runs in each game. Hinton let Frank Malzone's grounder get through him in the third inning of the opener and touched off a three-run Boston eighth in the second game by dropping Lee Thomas' pop fly.

Felix Mantilla powered the Red Sox in the nightcap with a three-run homer in the fifth inning. That blow wiped out a 2-0 Cleveland lead built on Rocky Colavito's ninth homer.

Jim King batted in three Washington runs in the first game with a homer, double and sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen added a homer and pitcher Phil Ortega a two-run double in a four-run sixth. Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh homered for the Yankees.

Pepitone unloaded a three-run blast in the sixth inning of the second game for all of New York's runs. Pedro Ramos saved the victory for Al Downing after the Senators had scored a run in the ninth and had two on and two out. Ramos

Mid-American Conference Plans Cage Series on TV

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Mid-American Conference announced Saturday an eight-week basketball television series starting with the 1965-66 season.

The series will be telecast live on Saturday afternoon over a 13 to 15 station network in Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia, and conference officials estimate it will have an audience of a million viewers each week.

Robert C. James, MAC commissioner, said the conference had entered into a three-year contract with TV Sports, Inc., of Patterson, N. J., to produce the two-hour show starting Jan. 8 and ending Feb. 26, 1966.

Eddie Einhorn, president of TV Sports, Inc., who also produces similar series for other major conferences, said the weekly series would include a pre-game segment featuring a MAC school, highlighted by an interview with the school's president, a variety type half-time show featuring college talent, a coaches' review, and as special feature of most games, appearance of some famous alumni and distinguished guests.

Some games will be telecast in color.

Einhorn said the schedule calls for each MAC school to appear on the series at least once. No school may appear more than four times nor twice the series more than twice. He added that no area would be blacked out.

"I think the series has the potential of being one of the strongest in the country," said Einhorn.

The schedule, announcers, lineups of stations an air times are to be announced later.

Mid-American Conference schools are Ohio University, Kent State, Bowling Green State, Miami, Marshall of West Virginia, Western Michigan and Toledo.

Nicklaus Cops Memphis Open

Mighty Rush Yields Top Prize

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus served warning to the golfing world with his victory in the $60,000 Memphis Open that he's not to be trusted no matter how hopeless his position looks.

"I'm the kind of guy who plays better under pressure," Nicklaus said Sunday after he came from five strokes off the pace to win the Memphis golf tournament.

"I don't get excited unless I have something to play for, but when I get charged up, something forces me to play my best."

As it was, Nicklaus shot a 65 as the field before him faltered a little, finished the regulation 72 holes tied with Johnny Pott at 271 and then beat the latter in the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

"It wasn't a matter of my playing so well, although that string of birdies got me fired up, as it was the others not playing so well," he said.

The victory was worth $9,000 to Nicklaus.

Pott, who had started the day just two strokes out of the lead, birdied three of the last four holes to send the match into a playoff. But he had to sink an eight-foot putt on No. 18 to get the job done.

In the playoff, Pott drove his tee shot into a muddy rough surrounded by trees and bogged the hole while Nicklaus was taking a routine par for the victory.

Pott shot a round of 68 during the day and picked up $5,000 in prize money. Finishing two strokes back with 273s were Lou Graham, Bob McCallister, Julius Boros and Bert Yancy.

Pimlico's record daily double payoff is $5,932.20. It occurred when longshots scored in the first two races on Dec. 1, 1955.

Harsho Speaks

Phone Service Excise Tax
Discontinuance Is Sought

Congressman William Harsho, Ohio 6th District, has issued this statement on his efforts to get the excise tax on telephone service discontinued:

"The House went into speedy action last week on the President's proposals for excise tax reduction. The President's message was presented May 17 and the Committee on Ways and Means concluded consideration of the recommendations by the 19. There will be a further meeting of the Committee on this subject today to mark up a bill, and in all probability the subject will come before the House for a vote shortly thereafter.

"Among the President's recommendations is the repeal on July 1 of this year of excise taxes on jewelry, furs and luggage. As far as the tax on telephone service, a subject I know from my mail that my constituents are vitally interested in, the President would reduce the tax from 10 to 3 per cent Jan. 1, 1966, from 3 to 2 per cent on the next January, and further reductions in two steps on Jan. 1, 1968 and 1969 would finally eliminate the tax entirely.

"For what reason I cannot understand," the congressman continues, "the President seems to think that it is more important to ease the tax burden on what can only be considered luxury items before giving consideration to an item which is necessary part of the equipment of every home. While I concede that it is desirable to cut all taxes, I certainly think that consideration should first be given to those in the lower income group, who should definitely experience the first tax relief that it is possible to give, and to those to whom the telephone is an absolute necessity, like the elderly and the residents of rural areas.
